Dear Students,

It is my prayer that the ideals of this quotation will become the goal of your life.
 "Higher than the highest human thought can reach is God's ideal for His children. Godliness

Belize Mission Project

As part of our training at Laurelbrook, we are privileged to take part in the mission project in Belize. On Sabbath we take up a special offering to help aid our work at this project. A group of young people who can volunteer their vacation time and go work on the project. This year the group helped with the building project and also planting fruit trees for the farm. In the evenings they visited the people in the village and even had the opportunity to hold meetings. Each came back wondering who was blessed. We feel the group was, for they had a taste of what can be done for the Lord in mission service.

IN MEMORIAM

"He shall shine as the stars forever"

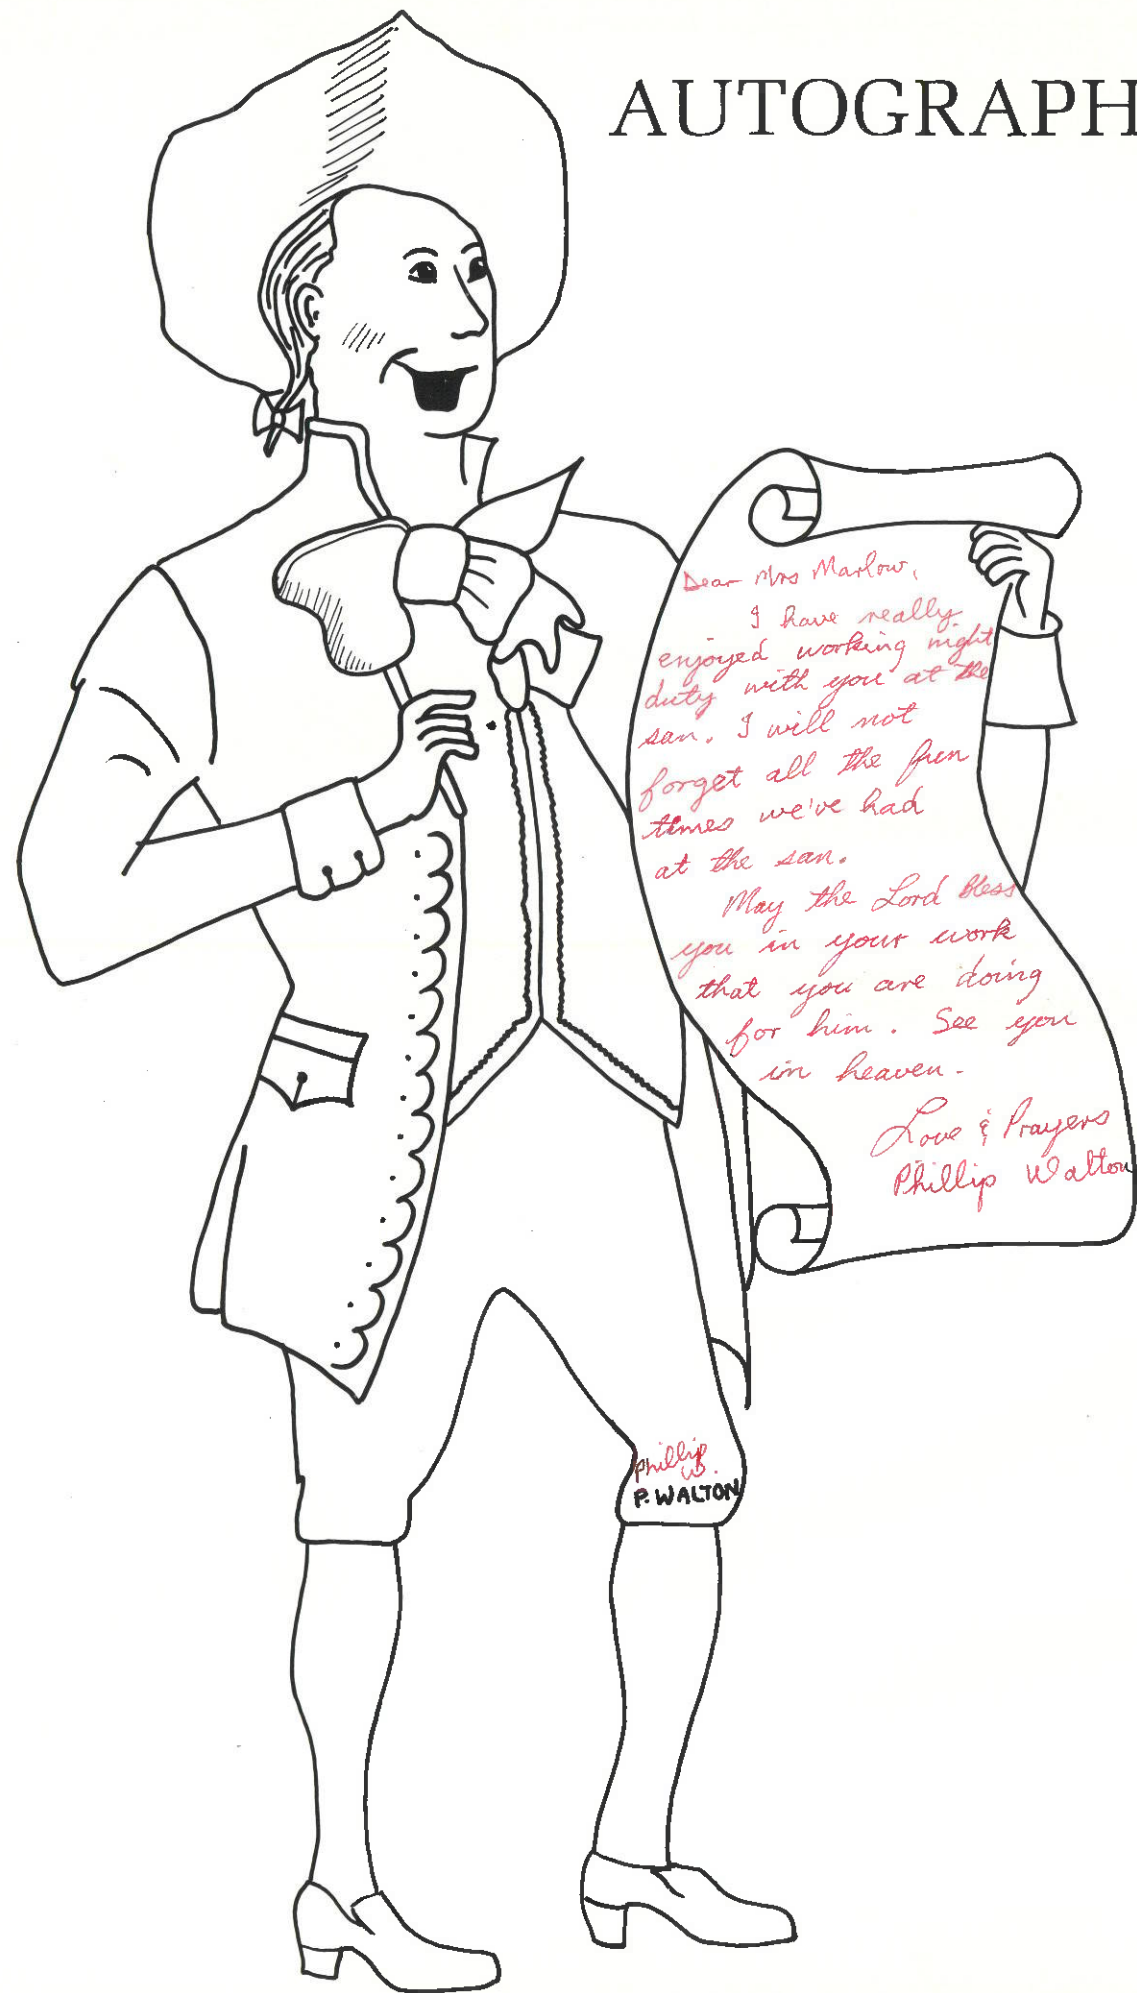

In memory of Walter Bamberger, a man who truly loved God and young people. His cheerful, buoyant spirit and unflinching trust in God in all circumstances will ever be an inspiration to the students here at Laurelbrook.

We will always remember his encouraging words and the humorous incidents that he related.

All about the campus we see things that recall to memory what he has done. The lights on the path, in the dorms, the auditorium and in our homes are silent testimonies of his love and devotion to the school. When the lights are turned out, when they flicker and die away, in that fleeting moment the memory of Mr. Bamberger will shine in the afterglow.

It may truly be said of you, Mr. Bamberger, that you lived for others, and one day you will live again and shall have many stars in your crown.

Of Jesus it was said, "Sweetness flowed from His very Presence." "Christianity will make a man a gentleman . . . all are to be treated with refinement and delicacy as the sons and daughters of God." In our social activities we desire our youth to learn the beauty of true courtesy and Christian refinement. Our social periods should not be times for just pleasing ourselves and our friends but a time to develop the graces of tenderness and love for one another. Then will our "lives be fragrant with perfume from the garden of the Lord." MYF 420 and 421.

"We can trace the line of the world's teachers as far back as human records extend; but the Light was before them. As the moon and the stars of our solar system shine by the reflected light of the sun, so as far as their teaching is true, do the world's great thinkers reflect the rays of the Sun of Righteousness. Every gleam of thought, every flash of the intellect, is from the Light of the world." Ed. p. 14

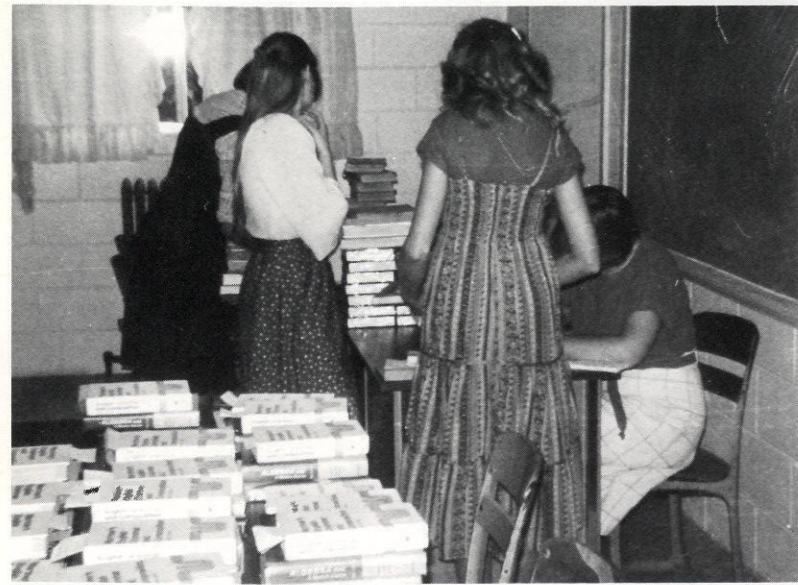

"In the presence of such a Teacher, of such opportunity for divine education, what worse than folly is it to seek an education apart from Him — to seek to be wise apart from Wisdom; to be true while rejecting Truth; to seek illumination apart from the Light, and existence without the Life; to turn from the Fountain of living waters, and hew out broken cisterns, that can hold no water." Ed. p. 83

Our Classrooms

"With such a preparation as they can gain, thousands upon thousands of the youth and those older in years should be giving themselves to this work. With such an army of workers as our youth rightly trained, might furnish, how soon the message of a crucified, risen and soon coming Saviour might be carried to the whole world." Ed p. 271

"The true object of education is to fit men and women for service by developing and bringing into active exercise all their faculties . . . The Lord calls upon youth to enter our schools and quickly fit themselves for active work . . . Workers for Christ are needed everywhere."

"True education means more than the pursual of a certain course of study. It means more than a preparation for the life that now is. It has to do with the whole being, and with the whole period of existence possible to man. It prepares the student for the joy of service in this world and for the higher joy of wider service in the world to come." Ed p. 13

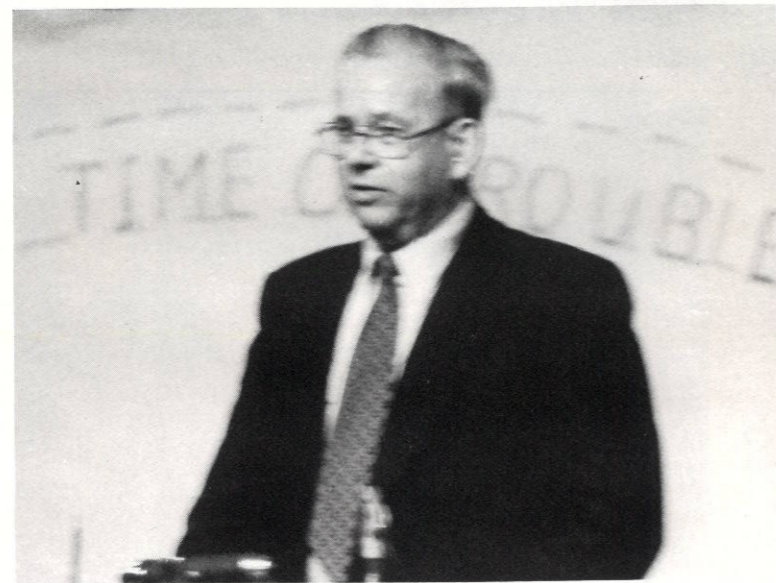

"In a knowledge of God all true knowledge and real development have their source. Whatever line of investigation we pursue, with a sincere purpose to arrive at truth, we are brought in touch with the unseen, mighty Intelligence that is working in and through all. The mind of man is brought into communion with the mind of God, the finite with the Infinite." EDUCATION p. 14

"He who co-operates with the divine purpose in imparting to the youth a knowledge of God, and molding the character into harmony with His, does a high and noble work. As he awakens a desire to reach God's ideal, he presents an education that is as high as heaven and as broad as the universe; an education that cannot be completed in this life, but that will be continued in the life to come; an education that secures to the successful student his passport from the preparatory school of earth to the higher grade, the school above."

Dear Students,

"We are learners that we may be teachers." 6T 115. Everyone of us are students in the school of life. Each day brings its challenges and obstacles as well as its joyous opportunities to see God at work. I constantly marvel at how anxious God is to take a seemingly impossible situation and transform it into a victory and a blessing for His people. As we learn to trust Jesus more and see His blessing, it qualifies us to be teachers of others along life's way. There is no greater joy than to be used by God to teach someone else of Jesus' saving love, miracle working power and sustaining grace.

Dear Students,

All youth want joy and happiness. We look for it constantly. I believe we look for it in the wrong place. Where does the One who made us tell us where it is found? "The TRUE JOY of life is found ONLY by the WORKING MEN AND WOMEN." PP 50. The word only is a very narrow word so far as scope. But that is why joy is so easily found. Yet it is so hard to accept by our carnal nature. May each of us find the greater joy in working for Jesus.

 But soon it's growing strong,
 And like a healthy, sturdy plant
 It blooms our whole lives long.

Just as each flower has some special beauty of its own, so does each friend have a highly individual personality that adds joy and happiness to our lives. And in attaining a true appreciation of the separate qualities of each, we are certain to find that we have gained fulfillment of ourselves.

"The true teacher can impart to his pupils few gifts so valuable as the gift of his own companionship . . . To strengthen the tie of sympathy between the teacher and student there are few means that count so much as pleasant association together outside the classroom . . . He unites in their pursuits, accompanies them in their excursions and seems to make himself one with them . . . The sacrifice demanded on the teacher would be great, but he would reap a rich reward." "shall be stars in their crown"

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Students and Teachers,

The theme of this year's annual is The Christian Teacher. No greater tribute has ever been given than that penned by the prophet Daniel and has echoed down through the ages. "... they that be teachers shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever." Daniel 12:3.

I, too, pay tribute to the Christian Teacher and to the Student who sits at his feet and receives his counsel and instruction.

God bless our school family.

Robert W. Zeelinger

It is an honor to dedicate this year's annual to a special teacher greatly loved and respected by students for many years.

Florence Burchard was one of the co-founders of Laurelbrook. She came here in 1950 as part of the original seven staff members. She taught here for several years then answered a call to Central America as a missionary teacher and has returned and is now again on the teaching staff of Laurelbrook.

She has unselfishly dedicated her life to teaching young people. She has been an inspiration to hundreds of youth. A little part of her love and dedication to the cause of God is tucked away in the hearts of students that are scattered all around the globe.

The theme of our annual is The Christian Teacher. We have chosen to use the message of the stars to carry out the theme. This idea was expressed by the prophet Daniel. We trust that this annual will not only tell the story of Laurelbrook School year 1979-80 but also the deeper meaning and underlying ideals of christian education and the christian teacher.

What are the lessons of the stars that apply to the teacher?

Stars shine in the darkness to give direction and guidance to mankind. So amid the darkness of this world the teacher as a faithful guide gives directions to the youth.

As some stars but reflect the light of the sun, so the teacher is but a reflector of the Son of Righteousness.

Today, the youthful mind is seeking for something that is sure and steadfast—something it can hold on to, to give security, happiness and peace. This he should find in the teachings and ideals of his teachers. This, too, is taught in the message of the stars.

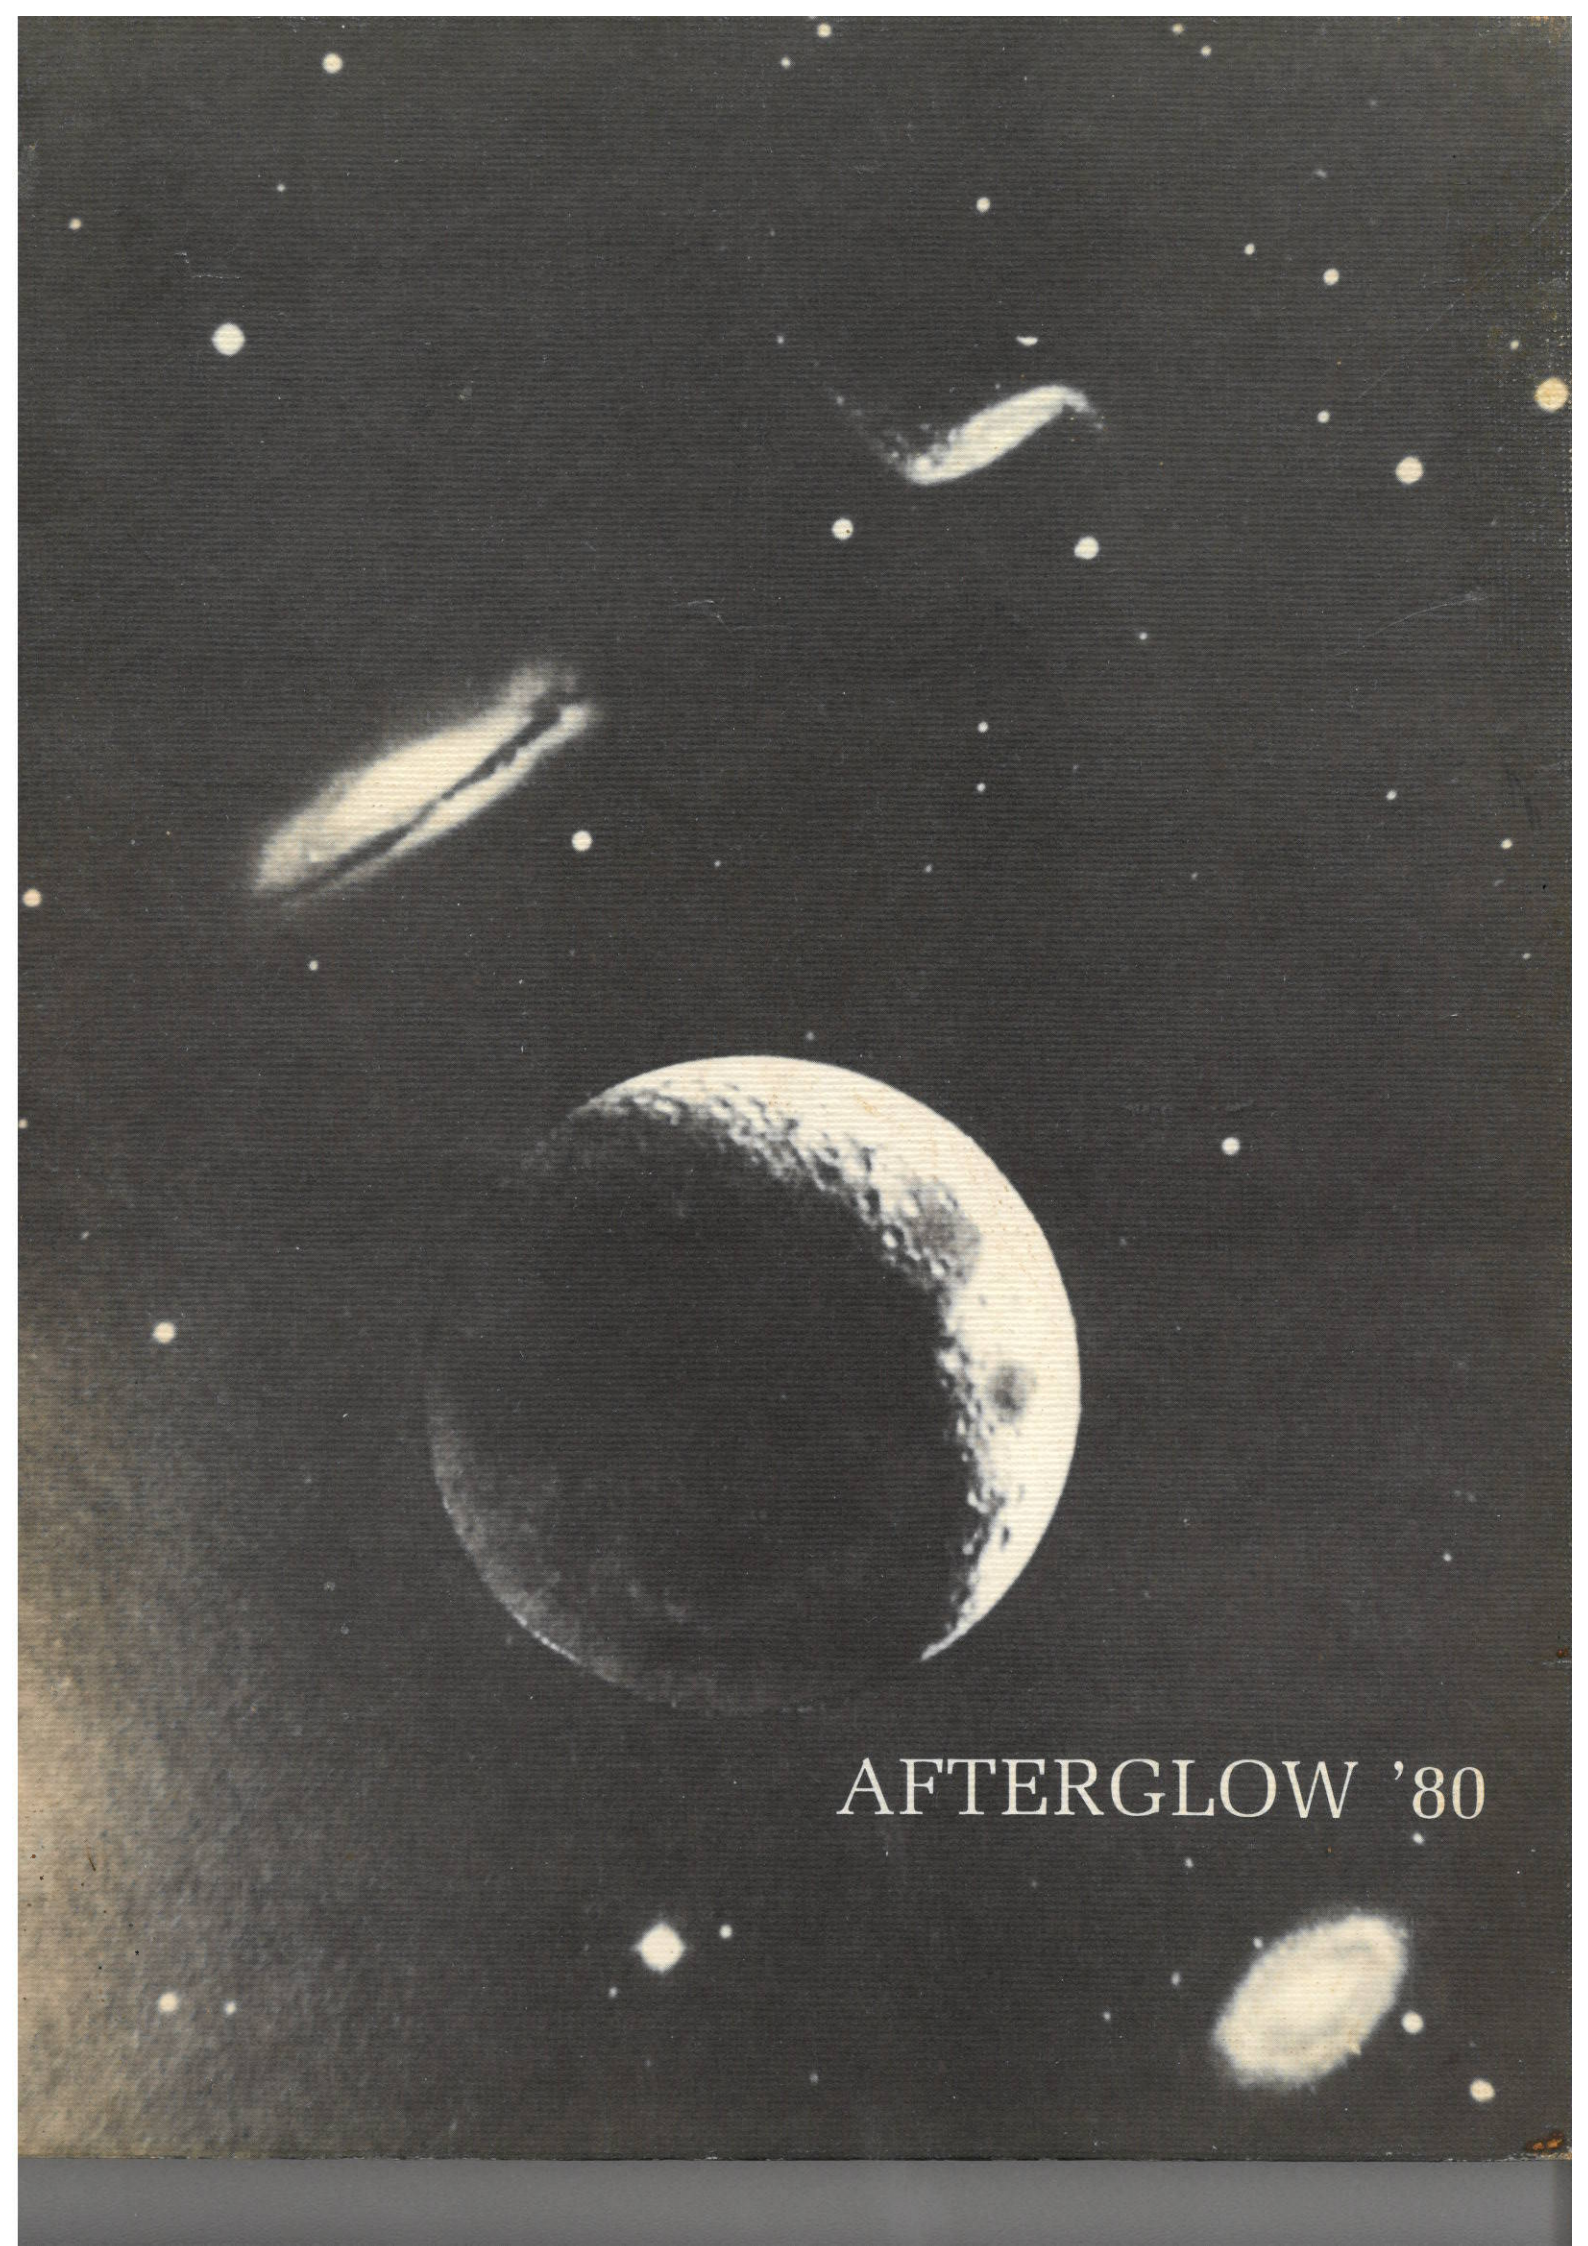

"In those hours that come to all, when the heart is faint and temptation presses sore; when obstacles seem insurmountable, life's aim impossible of achievement, its fair promises like apples of Sodom; where then can such courage and steadfastness be found as in that lesson which God has bidden us learn from the stars in their untroubled course?"

"Lift up your eyes on high and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number; He calleth them all by name by the greatness of His might, for that He is strong in power; not one faileth." Ed. 115.

“ . . . they shall shine as the stars . . . ”
