remember...

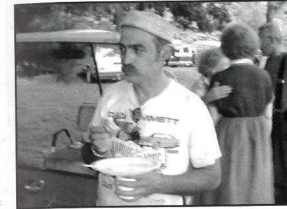

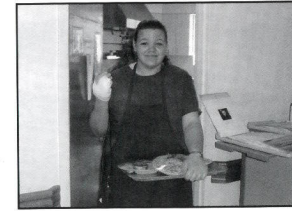

Some things in life just have a way of staying with you long after they have happened. These memories remain with you for the rest of your life. Sometimes they fade a bit; sometimes the passage of time makes them all the more real to you.

As you go on with your life after this school year, we want you to remember the things that you've learned. Remember the times you had with your friends – these helped shape who you are. Remember all the worships, sermons, and times of spiritual emphasis – these special times with God helped you decide what you will do with your spiritual life. Remember the hikes, picnics, field trips, and class outings – these events helped you develop how you will act with people. Remember all the little moments - these helped you ready yourself to handle the big events. Remember working at all the different jobs, even the ones you hated – these tasks can help you become the best in your field one day by teaching you to really work. Remember all the staff – they helped you become who you are now through their patience and instruction. Remember the trouble that you got into – it has helped you grow and become a better person. But most of all, remember God – He will not fail you even when everyone else is gone.

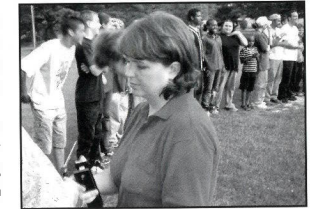

These memories that you've made will always be there, ready to be called back by the simplest thing. So AS WE GO ON, WE REMEMBER.

Dedication

This year's annual is dedicated to a very special person. Some people know him as a pastor, some as a mentor, but all know him as a friend. He always has a kind word and a cheerful smile for everyone. He has preached many sermons at the Laurelbrook Church, given Bible studies, and has been a spiritual influence on everyone. He is always ready to lend a listening ear and give good advice. His sense of humor and kindness have kept us from being overcome by the stresses of life.

For all you have given to us, for all you have done for us, for all you mean to us, we dedicate this annual to you, Pastor Walker.

Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, [even] unto the end of the world. Amen."

Matthew 28:19-20 KJV

People Remember

A Favorite Quote

"But Christ has made a way of escape for us. He lived on earth amid trials and temptations such as we have to meet. He lived a sinless life. He died for us, and now He offers to take our sins and give us His righteousness. If you give yourself to Him, and accept Him as your Saviour, then, sinful as your life may have been, for His sake you are accounted righteous. Christ's character stands in place of your character, and you are accepted before God just as if you had not sinned [emphasis ours]."

Ellen G. White, Steps to Christ, p. 62

His Quotable Lines

1. "Take that home and chew on it."
2. "If you like what you get, you are going to come back for more."
3. "The taste of the pudding is in the eating."
4. "I'm a retarded [retired] preacher. Preachers don't retire. They just get retarded."
5. "I have one thing to say, and then I'll shut up."

The Human Touch

Always cheerful in spite of illness both in his family and in his own personal experience, Pastor Walker tries to put people immediately at ease, shaking their hands and asking for a blessing. He is always ready to talk about his Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, whom he credits with turning him around when he was much younger and not so easily impressed. Even his moments of relaxation are tuned towards spreading the gospel - for many years he has been a ham radio operator, keeping in contact with others who go on dangerous missions to other parts of the globe and helping them when they need an American to contact. He has been an uplifter, not a leaner.

Pastor's and President's Messages

From the Pastor

This is my first time to do this. No, not write a letter, a note as a pastor for a school annual.

Thank you so much for being such a beautiful part of Becky's and my life this year.

The events ranged in areas I never dreamed could have been possible. But all things are possible with God leading. Thanks for the hikes, the trampoline, the visits in the dorm rooms, coming over for pizza at our house, and studying the Word with you. Eating at the kitchen with you. Watching and listening to comments that reflect the fact Jesus is moving in your lives.

The most exciting is to witness individuals taking part in Outreach. There are so many different ways that this is being done - visiting, Bible studies one on one, sharing the Word to a group, helping others around the neighborhood, working with the elderly, and the list just goes on and on. The opportunity to let your God-given gifts grow is so wonderful. To be a part of a group of people that realize that Jesus is coming soon is so comforting.

Please remember a few promises:

Philippines 1:6 Being confident of this very thing, that He which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ:

Philippines 2:13 For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure.

Philippines 4:13 I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.

Also as you travel, please take to heart this quote from Ellen White, Desire of Ages, page 396, "The questions that most concern us are, Do I believe with saving faith on the Son of God? Is my life in harmony with the divine law?"

Thank you for the love and inspiration you have shared.

*Love,
Larry and Becky Owens*

From the President

As We Go On We Remember. What is it that we are supposed to remember? "Remember" implies the past tense, so is it important that we remember something that has already happened, something that is done, something that will never affect us again? Or will it?

We are reminded that "we have nothing to fear for the future, except as we shall forget the way the Lord has led us, and His teaching in our past history." (CET 204.1) If God feels that His involvement in our past is so important, that must be something for us to remember.

Actually we have many things to remember: the many friends made while in school here at LBA, the fun activities, the retreats, our favorite classes and some not so favorite, the relationships built between staff and students, the many skills learned in the various vocational areas. These are the things that we will remember throughout our lives that will enhance our lives and make them special, but are these what we are to remember?

I would like to encourage each of you young people to remember God in the "days of your youth" so that as you look to the future and maybe even experience the gold and the glitter of life, you will not depart from Him who gives life. In your educational experience at Laurelbrook you have learned about God as you have helped the elderly in the nursing home, served in the kitchens, kept people warm by the boilers, supplied everyone with food from the garden, provided living quarters through the building program, ministered to the community through the Outreach program and the various other experiences that you have encountered while here. Jesus has told us that "Inasmuch as ye have done [it] unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done [it] unto me." (Matthew 25:40)

To all of our Laurelbrook family, my commission to you is to look to the future, not forgetting the God of our past. As the end approaches, we are admonished to look up, for our redemption draweth nigh. Let us each strive to be a part of that spectacular event and live forever with Jesus in the great Afterglow.

With much love and prayers, Chuck Hess

What Laurelbrook Means to Me

Laurelbrook to me is a place where I can make friends and learn more about God. I have learned so much in every aspect of life from school to friends to God. All of the staff strive to teach us everything we need to know about life or school or whatever. That's what Laurelbrook means to me.

Raechel Williamson, freshman

Laurelbrook is a place to make friends for a lifetime. It has taught me to put God first place in my life. It is also a good place to work and study. It is the best thing that happened to me. It helps you for life.

Mark Pulley, sophomore

Laurelbrook is a great place to learn. Since coming here, my life has changed so much. I've found the meaning of hard work, honesty, and getting along with people. My spiritual life has changed also. When I came here, I had no interest in anything spiritual; now I've gotten baptized. I've also made lifelong friendships with the people here.

Luke Fickett, junior

Laurelbrook is a place that helps me develop the life skills that will make me the type of person I want to be. I am so thankful for the work experience, people skills and determination that I learned here. The time away from home has taught me to think for myself and to depend on God every moment of every day.

Rajeev Samuel, 2 year senior

Laurelbrook is a place to grow socially, spiritually, and academically. LBA provides essential things we need to know in preparation for the real world. It teaches us how to work, how to get along with many different types of people, and it spiritually enriches us. Here we make friends that last a lifetime, and here we can get to know Jesus better as our best friend.

Mishala Abrams, 3 year senior

Laurelbrook means many different things to me. For the past year that I have been here, I have learned many different things. I have learned how to be self sacrificing. Not that I have accomplished this fully, but when you are working with young people, you learn to see beyond what you want them to do and see what they are capable and gifted to do. Second, Laurelbrook means a lot to me because it gave me an opportunity to do things that I otherwise probably would not have done. Things like teaching and leading have given me such a confidence that I never had. Lastly, Laurelbrook is a place where I began and started my family. My husband and my son are two of the most important people to me and the godly environment gives us an opportunity to grow and become a better Christian family. I have learned how to manage with different views, personalities, characters, and cultures. I thank God for allowing me to be here to have such experiences.

Sammy Conway, staff member

Campus Improvements

The school purchased a newer, safer, portable sawmill to use in sawing lumber for pallets.

Wendel Adams and helpers did major renovation work on this house near the cemetery.

Progress has been made on the addition to the main classroom building. Mr. Bob and his student helpers built this fire escape.

Wendel Adams and helpers raised the steel frame above the new library addition.

With the help of Josh Carr, Wendel Adams, Jeff Childress, and Carey Thornhill, Rick Carr turned part of his basement into a guest room.

10 Campus Improvements

Norbert helps fill in a pipeline ditch for the new sewer extension.

The friendships gained throughout the school year are a very important part of the Laurelbrook experience. The Laurelbrook staff strive to maintain a family atmosphere where these group friendships can develop. In these next pages, you will see students and staff members as they sat for a photographer and as they lived their lives on this campus.

"If children were taught to regard the humble round of everyday duties as the course marked out for them by the Lord, as a school in which they were to be trained to render faithful and efficient service, how much more pleasant and honorable would their work appear. To perform every duty as unto the Lord, throws a charm around the humblest employment, and links the workers on earth with the holy beings who do God's will in heaven."

Tribute to Mrs. Magdalena Peick

Tante Lena (as Mrs. Peick was known) sings her beloved hymn "Love at Home" for Annette Brenneman's wedding.

Magdalena Peick was born in the little German town of Horn on November 18, 1905, the oldest of three children. When she was four, and before her youngest brother was born, their father was killed in a mining accident. Her grandmother, also a widow, helped raise the children so her mother could earn a living. Although poor, her mother was highly respected in the area, sitting on the town council for several years. An aunt living in America persuaded the family to emigrate to the United States while the boys were still in their teens. Magdalena stayed behind in German to care for her aged grandmother and apprentice as a cook in a famous German restaurant.

At age 24, after her grandmother's death, she joined her mother and brothers in New York and resided there until she moved to Tennessee just before coming to Laurelbrook. She met her husband Henry at a Baptist church in New York. He had just come from Germany. Although they never had any children of their own, they raised her youngest brother's child when his wife developed a mental illness from which she never recovered.

For many years, she did infant nursing, going into private homes for two to four weeks to care for newborns while the mother recuperated; she also worked as a cook for the Greater New York Conference during their various summer camps and conventions. She worked in a knitting mill and spent her last ten years in New York working as a Bible worker among German immigrants. She was an active church worker, serving as a Sabbath School teacher, superintendent, and treasurer. During World War II, she organized a "care package" team at the church, helping to save the lives of many people with the staple foods she and her husband purchased at great personal sacrifice and mailed to impoverished family and friends.

When her husband's mental health declined to the point where she could not manage him at home and continue her work, they came to Laurelbrook and admitted him into the nursing home. Magdalena was then 60 years old, and for the next 20 years she was the head of the housekeeping department in the nursing home. Tante ("aunt" in German) Lena, as she was affectionately known, trained many students in the fine art of keeping things spotless. "If you aren't able to eat your dinner off the toilet seat, you haven't cleaned it well enough" was a favorite saying of hers.

Magdalena listens carefully to the teacher in her Sabbath School class, ready to respond with a comment.

Magdalena had a beautiful high soprano voice as a young girl and loved to sing. In later years, she sang mostly alto and lost her range, but her love for both music and cooking never abated. She would host each class to a dinner at her home very year, an event always anticipated eagerly. After 16 years of retirement at Laurelbrook, failing health made necessary her admission to the nursing home last February where she celebrated her 97th birthday on November 18, 2002.

---Ruth B. Zollinger

Her favorite hymn was "Love At Home":

There is beauty all around
When there's love at home;
There is joy in every sound,
When there's love at home.

Peace and plenty here abide,
Smiling faith on every side;
Time doth softly, sweetly glide,
When there's love at home.

Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you an holy day, a sabbath of rest to the LORD.

Exodus 35:2 KJV

Norbert tests the ice as he collects Friday's trash.

Some supervisors get camera-shy, too. Mrs. Sherry Bailey definitely hides from the camera.

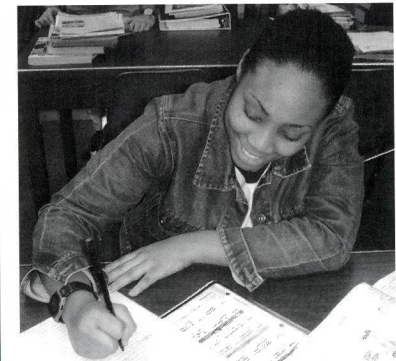

This is Laurelbrook's Umbrella Rock, an elusive destination for some Sabbath afternoon hikes.

Paul Lehdorff enjoys playing the piano for services.

Paul Frechette serves soup on Sabbath evening.

Deidre works on home ec in the library.
