Memories in Motion

As the months go by, and the present turns to history, we remember how we have grown and changed throughout the year with Christ's help. We reminisce over the friends we have made and the occasions we have spent in training. As we go on with our Memories in Motion, we will never forget the time we have spent at Laurelbrook and the changes that have come to us hourly, daily, and weekly.

Memories in Motion

"Nevertheless I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant." Ezekiel 16:60

Dedication

We would like to dedicate this yearbook to a couple who have made a great impact on Laurelbrook students. Along with smiles, love, and five dollar fines, we girls have learned to make sure that our uniforms are tied. We boys have learned to keep our smocks properly zipped up. All of us have enjoyed the sub sandwiches and the times we have been invited to their house for dinner. We thank them for making sure that all our money was kept safe, even though many times we were almost convinced that there was a charge for the privilege.

We also thank him for his fire department service and thank her for being a wonderful business office secretary and nursing home worker, and both of them for all the times that they have been an inspiration to students and staff and for sharing Christ in all that they do, even if it was hard at times.

On behalf of the Laurelbrook publications staff and the student body, we dedicate this 2006 Afterglow to a very special couple whom we have come to respect and love -

Paul and Judy Frechette

TIME TO CHANGE: Paul Frechette, 49, and Judy Frechette, 47, have been married for 20 years. They are pictured here with their son, Paul Jr., and daughter, Judy.

Frechette steps down as fire chief; Carr takes over, recalls 20 years of progress

By Dan Hinkle
Hinkle is a freelance writer and author of several books on fire service. He is currently working on a book about fire service in the 21st century.

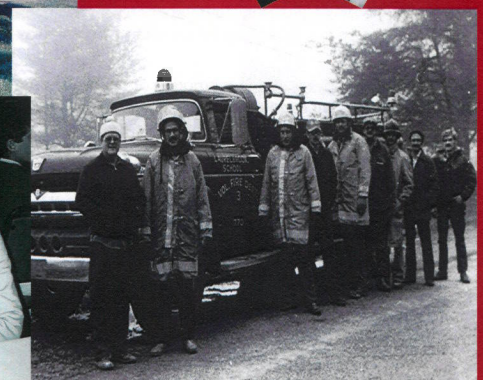

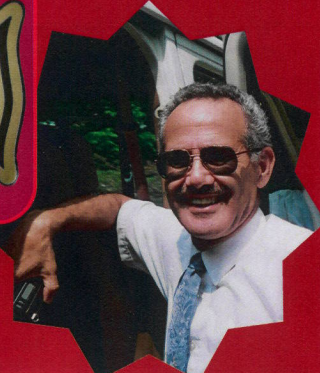

When Paul Frechette stepped down as chief of the Laurelbrook Fire Department, he left a legacy of service and dedication. Frechette, 49, has been chief for 20 years, and during that time, he has led the department through many challenges and successes.

Frechette, one of the most respected members of the fire service, stepped down as chief of the Laurelbrook Fire Department after 20 years of service. He was replaced by Paul Carr, who has been with the department for 10 years.

A few minutes later, Carr stepped into the role of chief. He is a man of many talents, and he has been a great leader for the department. He has been instrumental in many of the department's successes, and he is looking forward to continuing the legacy of service that Frechette has established.

Frechette, who has been a member of the fire service for over 30 years, has been a great role model for the department. He has been instrumental in many of the department's successes, and he is looking forward to continuing the legacy of service that Frechette has established.

Pastor's / President's Messages

Dear School Family,

There have been many wonderful things happen this year. To choose what to share with you is difficult. What I thought I would do this year is share a few quotes which impacted my life this year because the question comes up each day, "How do I live for Jesus?"

The 1st quote is from 2 Peter 1:4 "Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust." The promises from God's Word are to teach us how we can partake of the very nature of Christ.
Wow...

The 2nd quote is from the Desire of Ages, p. 668:

"All true obedience comes from the heart. It was heart work with Christ. And if we consent, He will so identify Himself with our thoughts and aims, so blend our hearts and minds into conformity to His will, that when obeying Him we shall be but carrying out our own impulses. The will, refined and sanctified, will find its highest delight in doing His service. When we know God as it is our privilege to know Him, our life will be a life of continual obedience. Through an appreciation of the character of Christ, through communion with God, sin will become hateful to us."

My prayer for you is that each day you turn your will over to the will of God. He will so tenderly and lovingly transform every part of you into a new creature. 2 Corinthians 5:17 "Therefore if any man [be] in Christ, [he is] a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

Remember, James 5:8 "Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh."
May God bless in all He will do through you,

Larry Owens
Pastor

Dear School Family,

Memories in Motion. This theme denotes action - action in our minds and thus in our memories. In God's word, we are told to put our memories in motion on more than one occasion. First, He said "Remember". Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy ... God tells us in Exodus 31 that He gave us this day as a sign between us that He is our God and we are His children. This we are to remember and put into motion by honoring Him on this Holy day. Second, He tells us that we have nothing to fear for the future as long as we remember the way He has led us in our past.

As we have stored up the memories of our friends that we have made and all the activities that we have participated in during the year, it is easy to look back and remember and share these with our friends and families. You see, our memories stir us to action. What we have learned and experienced become a part of us and who we are to become.

Students, Staff, Friends, let us each determine in our hearts that as we face another year that we will learn from the memories of this one, that we will see how the Lord has led us and take courage from that. That we will look to the future, unafraid, because we have remembered that we have a God who is able to save us and as we enter the Afterglow, we can say with Paul that we have fought the good fight and have finished the race and are looking forward to the crown that is layed up for each one of us.

Chuck Hess
President

What Laurelbrook Means to Me

Laurelbrook is a place where students can come to learn more about their God and creator. It is a place where students from all aspects of life can learn to work in an environment with their hands. Furthermore Laurelbrook is a home for many students and a religious refuge for others.

Christopher Hess, Junior

Laurelbrook is a place where I can make friends and grow closer to God. I can learn how to work hard and study well. Laurelbrook means a lot to me because it's unlike any other school anywhere.

Jaimie Daville, Freshman

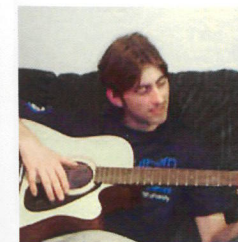

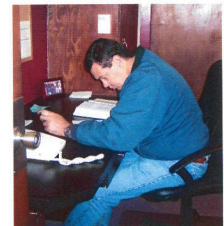

What I like about Laurelbrook is the fact that it is on a beautiful campus and it offers you opportunities to grow spiritually. Also, you get to meet lots of different people from different nationalities. Laurelbrook is a place of prosperity and success. This school is a great place to be.

Daria Clark, Sophomore

I very much love Laurelbrook because of the beauty of the campus, the diversity of the students, and the Christian atmosphere. Just the other day, Eugene, a student from Russia, sang a Russian hymn to me. Working and worshipping with students from all over the world is a joy to me.

Mr. Rick Carr, Staff

I personally like the atmosphere of the campus because it is well-balanced and everyone is involved with everything. I appreciate the relationship of the staff and students and also the things the staff do with the students to maintain a good relationship and trust. Whether it be in school, work, church, recreation, or even our free time, they do the best that they can for us.

Allen McCurdy, Senior

The Point is a favorite destination for Sabbath hikes.

The beauty of nature truly reflects the work of a creator. As the sun rises the majestic mountains appear to be hand crafted; time seems to stand still as streams cascade over the rock ledges. The wind seems to proclaim its secrets as it forces its way through the lush green of the forest. And as the sun departs, a fiery orange glow is painted across the sky, over the place you and I call home - that beautiful place that has withstood trial and error, our home Laurelbrook.

Tribute to Senior Class

Honiko is a person who loves horses and loves Jesus very much. She is a three year senior and has been a good influence on several people at Laurelbrook. Besides going on horse rides, she also enjoys hanging out with friends, family, and classmates.

Ashley is full of life and very vocal. She likes to get things done well and on time. If you happen to be walking near the girls' dorm and hear a piano being played, it is likely that it is Ashley pounding the keys. Although she says she will never marry, it is evident from her friendliness that this might not be the case.

One thing that is for sure is that when I needed someone to talk to and someone to encourage me, I knew for sure I could talk with Vyn. He is really an awesome friend and is really close to the Lord in all he does.

Allen likes to help shoulder the load of life in the right way. He is very cheerful in all he does and sticks to the rules as far as possible.

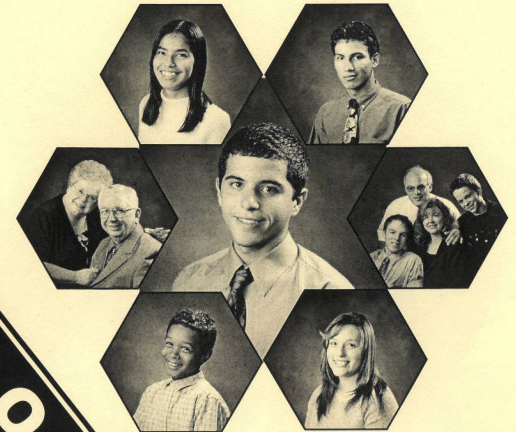

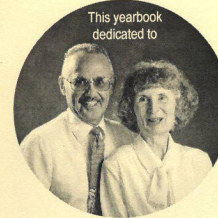

I am glad that Dagmar has come to Laurelbrook because she always thinks about others. She has been a very good example for all of the students.

Amy has such a great, sensitive, loving character. Her smile brings out the sun on a cloudy day, and her enthusiasm radiates everywhere else. She is a great encouragement to others.

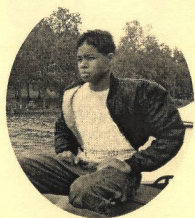

Rachael has been a good friend to everyone she has come to know at Laurelbrook. We will miss her smile around the campus.

Denise helps make up trays in the nursing home kitchen.

Daria sweeps the VA Building porch.

Siera cleans Classroom 2.

Dagmar straightens up the school kitchen.

Rachael helps with computer work in the school office.

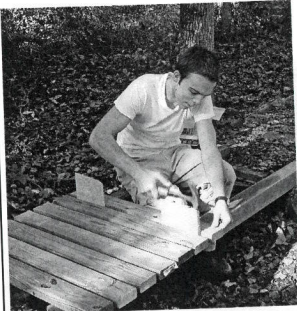

Everyone pitches in when it is canning time.

Outdoor Training

Outdoor training involves a lot of different tasks - working with wood, driving tractors, mowing fields, doing construction and maintenance work, planting and tending flower gardens, trimming hedges and trees, mowing lawns, clearing ditches.

"The way of man is froward and strange: but as for the pure, his work is right." Proverbs 21:8

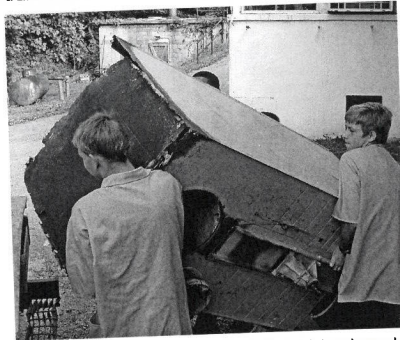

Christopher repairs a bridge on the grade school trail.

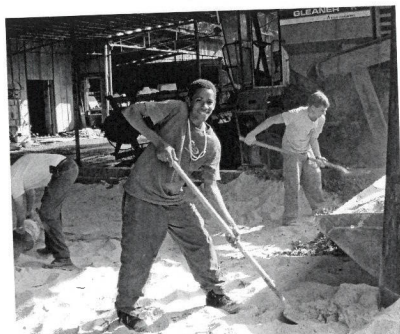

Joe paints the trim on a house near the fire station.

Boys use blowers to clear leaves from the front of the boys' dorm.

Mervin, Jason, and Nicos (not shown) load an old dryer into the trash truck.

Brandon shovels sand for a construction project.

Richard uses a weedeater to get the corners the mower can't reach.

Outdoor Training

In the summer, the garden is the focus of much of the outdoor training.

Nicos helps build a new roof over the school boiler room.

Mervin hoes the corn.

Christopher helps load leaves into a trailer before he takes them to the compost pile.

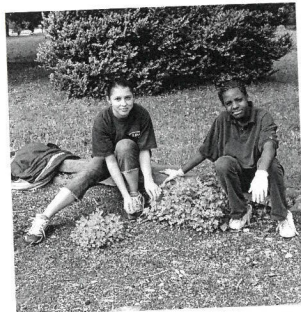

Ben mows a field near the old barn area.

A lot of tomato plants are planted each year in the garden.

Vocational Training

Ashley and Kari pause while weeding the flower beds in the spring.

The vocational training program goes all year round since there is always something to be done and something to be learned from it. Some of the pictures on these vocational pages come from the summer vocational program.

"I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do."
John 17:4

Jennifer does the Friday sweeping at the McKee Building.

Tractors and trailers are an occasional sight as students help haul things around the campus.

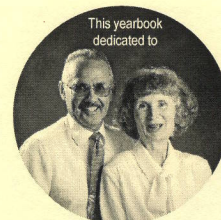

Ms. Davis shows Honiko what she needs her to do in the school office.

Alina washes pots and pans in the nursing home kitchen.

Eugene helps pick the household trash on Friday morning.

This yearbook dedicated to Having fun is also on the Laurelbrook agenda. Through social activities staff and students come to develop friendships with each other and with our Creator.

Girls' Dorm

The girls gather to watch a movie and hang out.

Ashley, Alina, and Ali gather to discuss the day's plans.

Mimose works hard to make her room look nice.

The girls and deans gather together morning and night one night and got many of the girls involved.

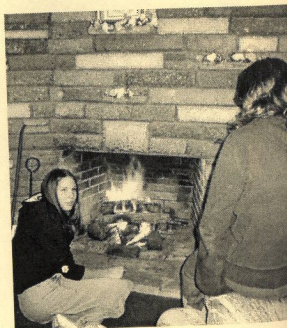

This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.
John 15:12-13

The girls' dorm is a home away from home for these 13 girls. It is a place where they can relax, hang-out, study, and learn more about God and how to relate to others.

Lizette does what girls do best - talk!!

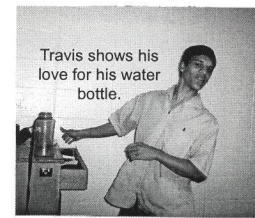

Honiko and Ali get a fire going to keep the girls warm.

Boys' Dorm

The boys' dorm is a place where the young men can come and enjoy themselves. Whether it be playing a game, sleeping, attending chapel, or hanging out with the dean - the dorm is a place of rest for all.

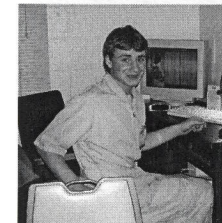

Travis shows his love for his water bottle.

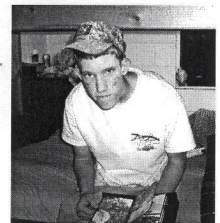

What? Mr. Carr, the assistant dean, shares his enthusiasm with someone.

Allen studies God's enlightening word.

Andrew takes a break from doing his homework.

Wayne enjoys reading his Bible.

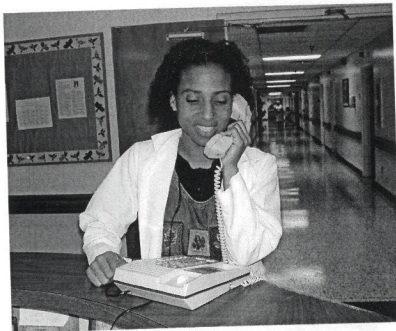

The rewards of a well fought game are not to be underestimated.

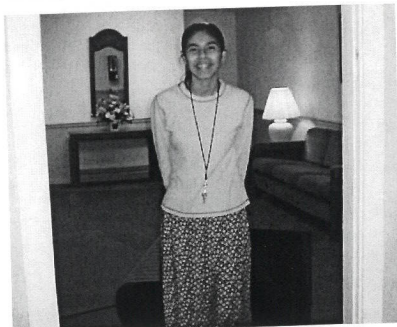

Time to get ready in the morning.

Staff in Action

Mrs. Michelle answers the phone in the nursing home.

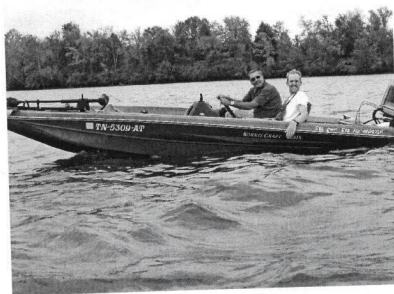

Ms. Miriam finishes cleaning the rugs in the cafe.

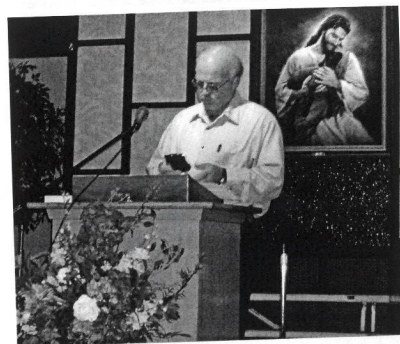

Mrs. Magee puts on a pillow case for one of the nursing home residents.

Mrs. Hess makes sure that her son gets plenty of sleep.

Mr. Carr and Daryll test out their new boat.

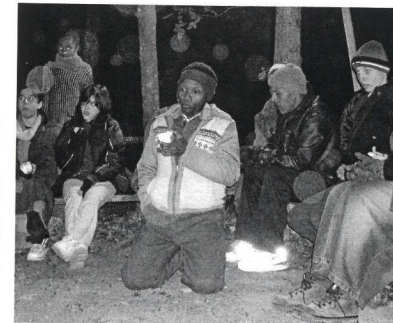

Mr. Chuck get ready to give some good words of wisdom to Laurelbrook students.

Staff in Action

Ms. Doris has a chat with Mrs. Busl at the Christmas party.

Mr. King tries to stay warm while he eats his apple.

Mr. Mike sings his baby to sleep.

Mrs. Remy opens the door for one of the residents.

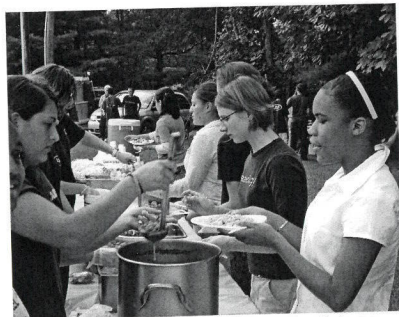

On a choir trip, Laura takes a snooze in the van with Mimose.

Pastor Cuke aims his dart at the target.

Social Activities

Students get their food during Fun Fair, an evening of fellowship and games during the first week of school.

The seniors enjoy being out in nature during Senior Leadership Weekend.

Lizette tries to roll the stick into the box during Fun Fair while Denise and Mrs. Cuke lend encouragement.

Social Activities

Staff members, guests, and those students who stayed over the holiday enjoy the annual Thanksgiving dinner.

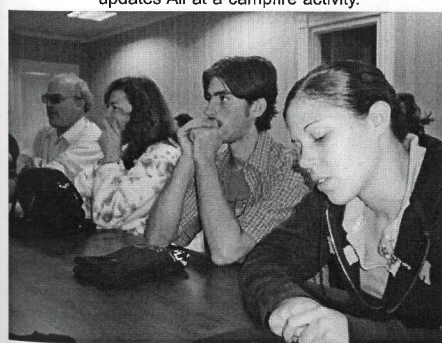

"We love each other. Smile big!" Ashley found a friend.

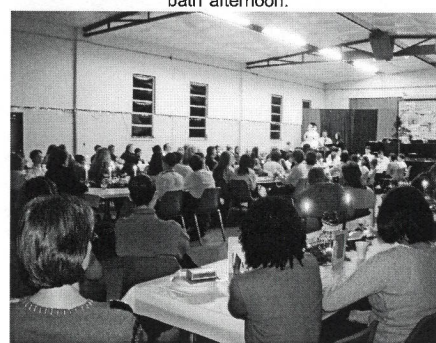

"Just go this way and then that way...." Donovan updates Ali at a campfire activity.

Roger Westfall takes a group out for a hike on Sabbath afternoon.

Seniors and sponsors wait for the activity to begin as they view the Southern Adventist University program.

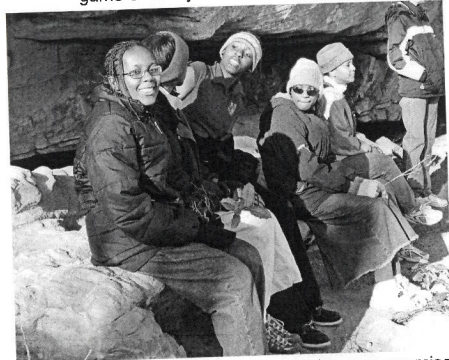

The whole institution - students and staff members - enjoy the annual Christmas party in the auditorium.

Social Activities

Students and staff members get some exercise with a game of volleyball in the auditorium.

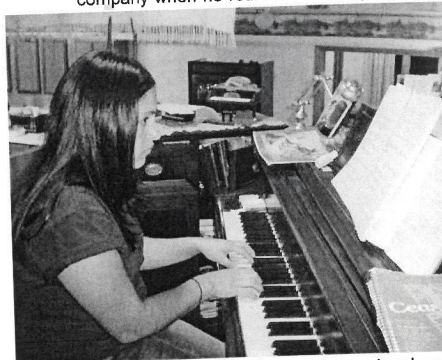

Along with other students, Mimose gets some exercise and inspiration on a Sabbath hike.

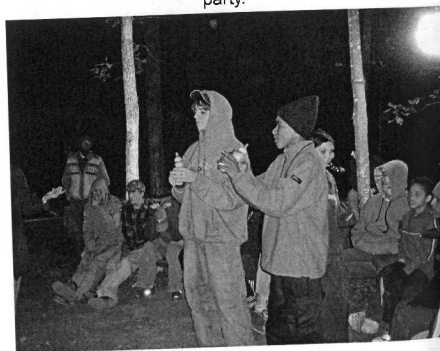

Everyone likes a hay ride.

Firefighters and their wives had a small dinner for Paul Frechette when he retired as head of Laurelbrook's fire company when he retired in January.

Dagmar enjoys playing the piano at the senior class party.

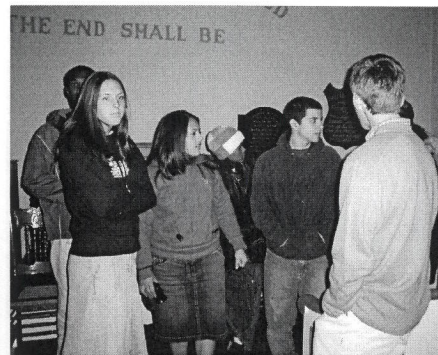

Around a campfire, Joe and Brandon enjoy refreshments.

Social Activities

As the sun goes down, Rachael and Honiko enjoy a moment together at Ascension Rock.

On their March Northeast Tour, the Laurelbrook Chorale gets ready to sing.

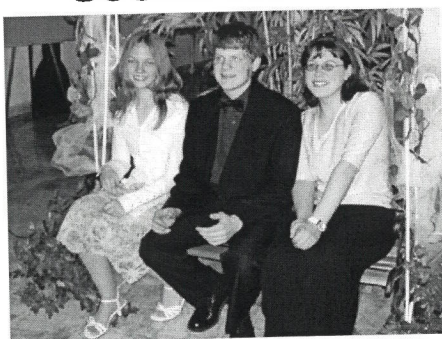

Debbie Hess plays Miller's organ while Elijah looks on.

Chorale members explore the Ten Commandments trail at the Washington, New Hampshire church.

Social Activities - Boys' Banquet

Jaimie, Elijah, and Ali pose in the picture area in the cafeteria building lobby.

Brandon ascends with roses for the two girls he escorted.

Denise, Jason, Dagmar, and Vyn enjoy their meal.

Christopher, Vyn, Elijah, and Allen sing "Friends Forever".

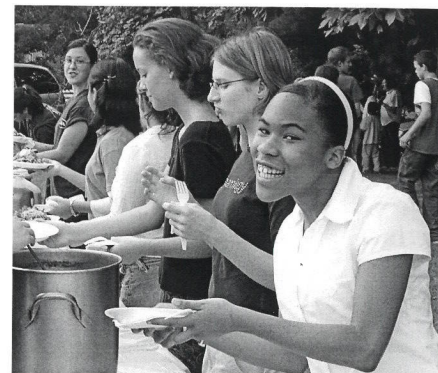

Staff members Angela Pulley and Debbie Hess help in the kitchen.

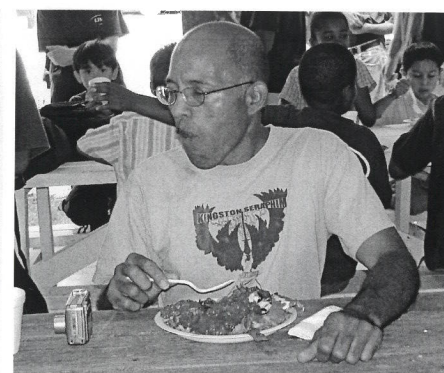

During worship, Amy, Honiko, and Vyn listen while Rachael responds to a question about relationships.

Candid Camera

Some people just enjoy smiling.

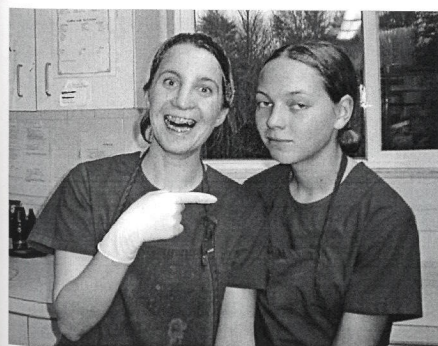

Pastor Cuke likes the Fall Picnic food.

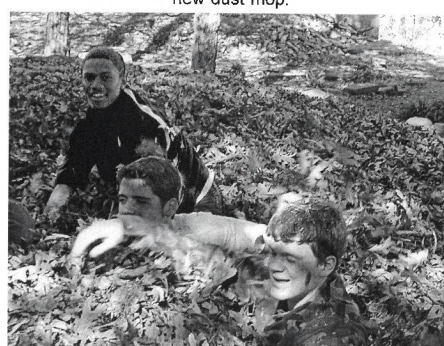

Ms. Westfall and Alina tussle over a broom.

Mr. Carr seems to be amused while dancing with his new dust mop.

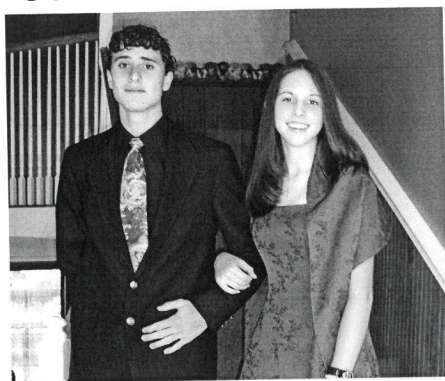

It's all right, Alina. We know Jaimie will take the blame.

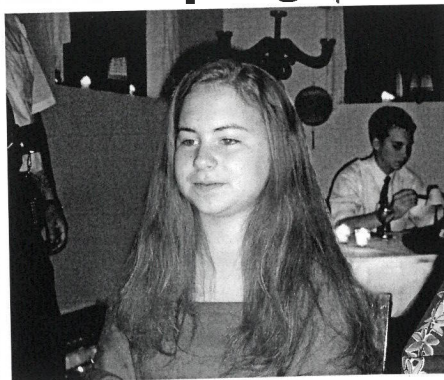

Some of the boys enjoy the fall leaves.

Junior/Senior Activities - Spring 2005

Matthew escorts Honiko to the Junior-Senior Banquet.

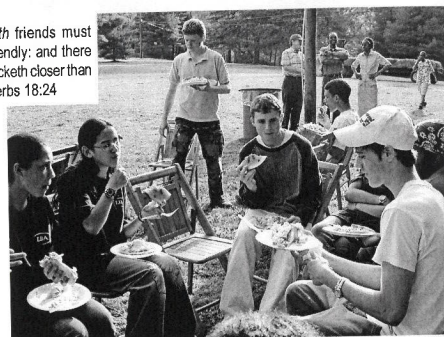

At the Junior-Senior Banquet, Amanda looks like she does not know what to do next.

The juniors welcome the seniors back from their campout.

"A man that hath friends must shew himself friendly; and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother." Proverbs 18:24

After the seniors are welcomed back, everyone joins together to eat.

The juniors sing for the seniors at the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Mr. Chuck and Mrs. Debbie enjoy the banquet. Chuck and Debbie Hess were the senior sponsors.

Dagmar enjoys eating with chopsticks.

Allen serenades Claudia on the Junior Campout with his newfound talent, the guitar.

Mrs. Sharon, is the drink too strong for you? Sharon and Wendel Adams were the junior sponsors.

After the Junior-Senior Banquet, the junior class looks very pleased with the evening's events.

Mrs. Sharon seems to be having a hard time stuffing Mr. Wendel with snowballs.

Graduation 2005

The senior class sings its last song together.

The big weekend is a march to the end of high school.

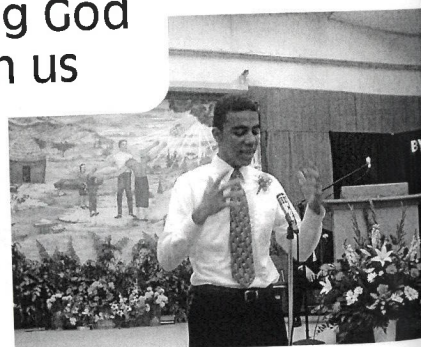

Matthew stands poised to deliver his farewell address.

Graduation is more than just a walk down an isle to show you have finished your high school education. It is more than just another ceremony. Graduation is the beginning of a future. It is a choice. You can travel anywhere, go to college, raise a family, become a missionary, or do what you have dreamed of doing all of your life. The only requirements are that you choose whom you want to serve - God or self - and what you want to do. You then pursue your dream to its completion.

*Graduation is not where you finish,
but where you begin.*

Four of the senior girls sing during consecration.

"Even though you may not agree with me, my parents are the best in the world!"

Graduation 2005

"Study earnestly to present yourself approved to God, a workman that does not need to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth."

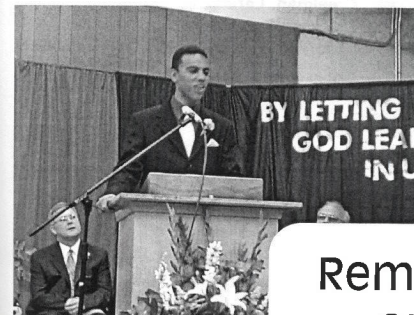

2 Timothy 2:15 Modern King James Version

Rueben receives his diploma from Mr. Chuck.

Today's juniors, tomorrow's leaders.

Adrien delivers his graduation speech to the audience.

Amanda says why she loves her parents.

Remembering
our past,
To lead
our future

Kristi delivers her speech while Mrs. Dorris delivers her grade.

Baccalaureate platform guests sing the opening hymn: Principal Doris Morris, Elva Bautista, Pastor Larry Owens, Pastor Luc Sabot, and Dr. Adrien Brutus.

Tribute to Patricia Seibert James

August 20, 1944 - December 31, 2005

She had a fine sense of humor.

At the 2004 nursing home Christmas party.

Eating was just as much fun as cooking.

Lori, Martin, and Pat Seibert

Pat and Buster James in perhaps their last portrait.

As woodsmen know, sometimes it is hard to accurately measure a tree until it is flat on the ground. It is often equally hard to appreciate a person until he or she is gone. The passing of Patricia Seibert James left an empty spot on the Laurelbrook campus. Only now can we measure what she did for people.

Pat was many things – head dietician at the Laurelbrook Nursing Home, a dedicated home economics teacher, a loving wife, and a delightful person who dearly loved her Heavenly Father and her co-workers and students. In over twenty years on the Laurelbrook campus, she enriched everyone's life by her cheerfulness, kindness, music, and hard work.

She was born into a military family in Covington, Kentucky and graduated from Singapore Academy and from Southern Missionary College near Chattanooga, Tennessee (now Southern Adventist University) with a degree in dietary management. She worked at Adventist hospitals in Kettering, Ohio and Madison, Tennessee. At Madison, she met her first husband – Martin Seibert – and married him. Eventually, they went to live and work in Oregon. The couple welcomed Lori into their home.

In 1983, Martin and Pat moved to Laurelbrook where he died a few years later of heart failure. Pat worked on, raising Lori and helping countless students and staff members understand better ways to prepare delicious food. She joined a singles club and went as a cook on several mission trips, one being to Ecuador.

This past summer, she married Buster James, and they began a new life together in the Laurelbrook dwelling where she had spent so many years.

She died in Memorial Hospital December 31, 2005. Funeral services were held on January 3, 2006 in the Laurelbrook church with Pastor Larry Owens of the Laurelbrook Seventh-day Adventist Church and Pastor Bob Mix of the Standifler Gap Seventh-day Adventist Church presiding. Vanderwall Funeral Home in Dayton was in charge of the funeral arrangements. Pat is buried in the Laurelbrook Cemetery.

What more can be said of her dedicated life? Here are a few comments from the audience at the funeral service.

1. Judy Frechette, fellow staff member and cook, noted that Pat was very careful to get her studying done when taking a course and that she was patient with questions from those she was training.
2. She had a sense of humor. Pastor Owens said that her husband Buster wanted him to tell about the time Pat was working at Sears. Someone brought in a broken chainsaw and said it wouldn't run. "Did you take it for a walk?" she replied.
3. Mr. Bob felt that Pat was a servant to all. She gave all encouragement, even to him, her boss for so many years.

"But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him." 1 Corinthians 2:9

She was also realistic about life.

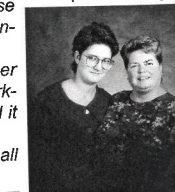

Pat enjoyed talking with people.

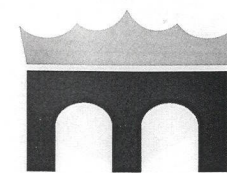

Pat enjoyed teaching home ec students.

Tribute to Donald Oliver Brenneman

December 4, 1920 - October 20, 2005

In his nearly 85 years, Donald Oliver Brenneman was many things - a carpenter, mapmaker, yearbook ad salesman, and plant manager. He was a father to two children - Jim, a Laurelbrook teacher, and Patricia, a computer software engineer in California. He also had three grandchildren - Annette, a Certified Nursing Assistant; Donnie, who works for Majestic Stone Company on Dayton Mountain; and Theresa, a student at a local college in California. He was also a great-grandfather to one great-grandchild - Jonathan, a first grader at Hixson Elementary school in Chattanooga. His wide ranging career took him from Oklahoma to Tunisia to Maryland to Tennessee.

With his wife Celia May

Born December 4, 1920 in Pawnee, Oklahoma, he was the oldest of four born to Oliver Quincy Brenneman and his wife Lola Hamilton. After graduating from Newton's high school in 1935, he did odd jobs such as pin setting at a bowling alley; he also worked with his father constructing houses. With war raging, he got a job working for the Cessna Aircraft Company in Wichita. In 1942, he joined the U.S. Army Air Force, eventually becoming a map maker.

In 1946, he got a job making maps for the U.S. Geological Survey at its headquarters in Washington, D.C. Over 13 years, he mapped much of the United States, including the state of Tennessee.

When his son Jim was in the seventh grade, Pastor John Loor, the elementary school's Week of Prayer speaker, heard his son say that he wished that his father would give his heart to Christ. Pastor Loor called on Donald, and Donald gave his heart to the Lord. He and his son were baptized together in the Takoma Park Seventh-day Adventist Church across from General Conference headquarters.

In 1960, with much of the mapmaking work shifting to computers, he took a job as assistant general manager and plant manager with the Sanborn Spring Company, a company his brother-in-law Robert Sanborn owned and operated near Collegedale, Tennessee.

In 1968 his brother-in-law sold the company to a Connecticut firm. Sanborn Spring Company became Newcomb Spring Company of Tennessee, and he became the general manager. But after two years the company let him go. By this time, they were becoming just another commercial concern and not a source of employment for Southern students.

With his wife, son, and daughter

After several months looking for work, he was hired by Southern as one of their maintenance men, primarily working in construction as a carpenter. He worked for the college maintenance department for fifteen years until his retirement in 1985.

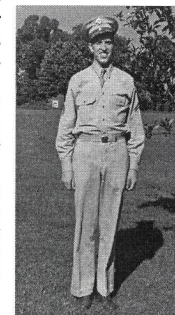

Three years later he and his wife Celia May moved to Dayton Mountain to be near their son Jim and his family. His wife Celia May slid into dementia five years later and eventually went to the Laurelbrook Nursing Home.

In retirement, he enjoyed traveling, getting yearbook ads for the Laurelbrook Afterglow, and watching sports and eating pizza with his grandson Donnie, as well as helping others when he could. He loved to help others, sometimes to his own detriment.

His life was fatally shattered when an elderly lady turned in front of him as he drove down Dayton Mountain on Highway 30 on October 4th. The impact broke his neck and may have caused other injuries. After two and a half weeks in the Shock-Trauma ICU at Erlanger Hospital in Chattanooga, he died.

In his nearly 85 years in wide-ranging careers, Donald Oliver Brenneman helped improve the world in which he lived. The world was different when he ended his tasks on earth.

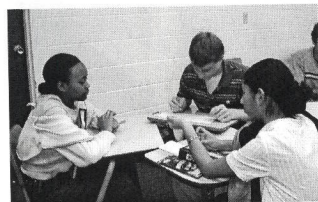

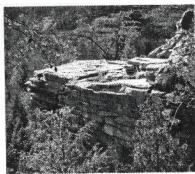

"For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him." 1 Thessalonians 4:14

As Making Memories Continues...

As long as Ben is thinking, his memories are in motion.

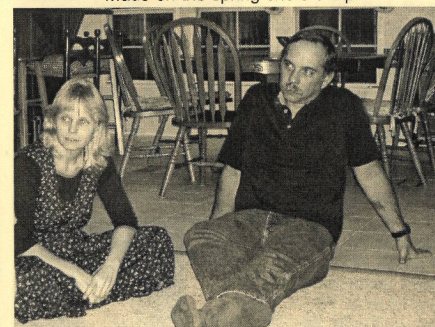

Laura and Honiko think about their memories as they wait in the cold to tour the Miller farm on the spring chorale trip.

Rachael enjoys all the wonderful memories she has made on the spring chorale trip.

Ashley contemplates her future beyond Laurelbrook as she thinks of the years she has spent there.

Julie and Fred Douville think about the memories this year has brought them, especially those class parties.

Eugene enjoys making musical memories that he will remember for the rest of his life.
